LIBRARY

REPORT OF ANDREW KEOGH, Librarian.

To the President and Fellows of Yale University:

GENTLEMEN:

I HAVE the honor to report on the work of the University Library during the academic year 1924-25.

THE GROWTH OF THE LIBRARY

THE number of volumes added to the General Library during the year was 38,988, of which 21,615 were bought, 13,552 were received by gift, and 3,821 by exchange. Nearly half of these additions were monographs; and a little more than half were magazines, publications of societies, and similar "serials." The Library also received 2,531 pamphlets by gift and 118 by exchange. The number of volumes added to the School and Departmental Libraries was as detailed on pages 9-11. While varying somewhat in detail, their numbers are similar to those of last year.

GIFTS

The gifts of money from graduates for current purchases were large and numerous and are detailed in the Treasurer's Report. For their gifts the whole University is grateful, for by these means the Library is built up to greater strength and possibilities of service.

In addition to gifts to income, there were five endowments of varying size and purpose. Mrs. Oscar M. Arnold gave $1,000 to establish a fund in memory of her son, Howard W. Arnold, Ph.B. 1914, the income to be used for the purchase of books of particular interest to the Sheffield Scientific School; Professor Woolsey gave $5,000, the income to be used for books on international law and diplomatic history, and collections of treaties; Mr. Starling W. Childs, B.A. 1891, gave $12,500 to establish a fund in memory of his father, Albert H. Childs, of the Class of 1861; and Mr. Frank Altschul, B.A. 1908, gave $11,600 for a fund which the University has named after the donor. The Childs and Altschul funds are not specifically book funds, but with the approval of the donors the income is at present used for books. Mr. Eli Whitney, B.A. 1869, left $4,500 as an addition to the $500 given by his grandfather (Eli Whitney, B.A. 1792) in 1822 for the purchase of books "relative to practical mechanics or mechanical and physical science generally."

The size of this report is so strictly limited that it is impossible even to name the hundreds of associations and institutions giving their publications to Yale's Library; and any detailed statement of the gifts of individual donors is of necessity left to the acknowledgments already sent by mail. A few of the gifts are mentioned, however, not only because they are of great interest in themselves, but also because they are the type of material that the Library greatly desires. Mr. Alvey A. Adee, M.A. Hon. 1888, bequeathed his collection of working editions of Shakespeare, numbering some five hundred volumes. Mr. H. Nelson Gay not only helped Yale to secure in Italy at reasonable prices books for our collection on the Risorgimento, but gave from his own library many valuable monographs and periodicals on modern Italian history. Dr. Burton Mansfield, Ph.B. 1875, gave a copy of Eisen's Great Chalice of Antioch; Provost and Mrs. Graves subscribed for a library copy of Mrs. Walcott's North American Wild Flowers to be in four volumes; and Mr. Carl W. Hamilton, B.A. 1913, gave several privately printed art folios. Mrs. J. Walcott Thompson and Dr. Louis B. Bishop, B.A. 1886, sent fifty volumes of Yale Memorabilia, with more than three hundred volumes of general interest, from the home of their father. Mrs. E. W. Root gave many letters by and to Dr. Mason Fitch Cogswell, B.A. 1780. Mr. Frank F. Starr sent a large number of memorabilia of Hamilton Brewer, M.D. 1841, and other Yale items. Miss Susan E. Daggett gave four hundred manuscript and six printed sermons by her father, the Rev. Dr. Oliver Ellsworth Daggett, B.A. 1828, and a portrait of David Daggett, B.A. 1783. Miss Theodora VanName and her brothers gave many hundreds of volumes from the library of their father, Addison VanName, B.A. 1858, and a collection of manuscripts, diplomas, and other papers relating to their uncle, Professor Josiah Willard Gibbs, also of the Class of 1858. Miss Maria T. Dana gave many papers relating to Benjamin Silliman, and to John Trumbull, the artist. Dr. Houston Mifflin sent a box of memorabilia about his brother, Dr. Lloyd Mifflin. Miss Frances L. Howland, Mr. Charles P. Howland, B.A. 1891, and Dr. John Howland, B.A. 1894, sent fifteen daguerreotypes of prominent Americans collected by their father, the late Judge Henry E. Howland, B.A. 1854. President Marion Edwards Park, of Bryn Mawr, and Professor Edwards A. Park gave the manuscript journal of Mrs. Esther Edwards Burr, addressed to Miss Prince, of Boston, 1754 to 1757. Mrs. Edward S. Harkness gave the camp receipt book of Nathan Hale, used by Hale for recording equipment issued to the soldiers of his company. Mr. R. B. Adam gave Boswell's copy of The London Chronicle from 1767 to 1775.

Dr. James Hosmer Penniman, B.A. 1884, has continued to add to the Penniman Memorial Library all the books and periodicals of an educational character asked for by the Department of Education, and has supplemented these books of daily use by many books of value to the student of the history of education. One of them, a notebook kept by the donor's father, James Lanman Penniman, B.A. 1853, while an undergraduate at Yale, has served as the basis of an article by Professor Beers on "What a Yale student read in the fifties." This article is to be reprinted, with a description of the Penniman Memorial Library by Dr. Spaulding.

To the Far Eastern Collection the estate of Mr. Addison VanName contributed forty-one Japanese books in 107 volumes, chiefly on the art of the Tokugawa period. Mr. Nobutsuna Sasaki, poet of the Imperial Court and chief editor of the small and costly edition of the Man-yō-shū printed since the earthquake and fire in Tokyo, has sent us a set of that variorum edition of the great Japanese anthology. The Yale Association of Japan, whose frequent gifts have been noted in earlier reports, have this year sent 285 Chinese works in 781 volumes.

To the William A. Speck Collection of Classical German Literature Mrs. Henry Eckstein presented a fine artist's proof, signed, of Carl Bauer's famous lithograph "Goethe als Faust-Dichter"; Professor J. F. L. Raschen, a very rare Goethe leaflet; and Professors A. Kippenberg and F. Hünich, of Leipzig, a number of valuable items, including several of the extremely scarce publications of the Stadelmann-Gesellschaft, beautiful productions issued in from twenty to thirty numbered copies only.

PURCHASES

Of necessity the purchases have been confined largely to current publications of importance and to the securing of older works needed for research. The cost of serials for the year has been in excess of $16,700, and when to this is added the cost of binding the volumes there is not much free money left. However, we have been able to strengthen our Chaucer collection, to add several hundred volumes of British Parliamentary Papers ("Blue Books") hitherto lacking, to buy at a moderate price so many issues of the London Gazette that we now lack but eighteen years out of the two hundred and sixty during which that important paper has been issued; and to secure from the library of the late Claud Lovat-Fraser his extraordinary collection of Ballads and Broad-sides, containing 1,600 sheets in twenty volumes, chiefly of the first half of the nineteenth century.

EXCHANGES

During the year four shipments, totaling ten cases, have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution. These contained 811 packages addressed to foreign libraries and learned societies.

This distribution, as heretofore, included publications of the Yale University Press and of the Connecticut Academy, as well as Yale doctoral dissertations printed during the year. Three of the dissertations were published in the Yale Studies in English, two in the Yale Studies in the History and Theory of Religion, and one in the Yale Oriental Series. Forty others were issued in abstract as reprints from the American Journal of Science and other periodicals.

Twelve of the publications of the Press were taken in quantities of twenty-five or fifty copies for distribution. Single copies of several others were sent to various libraries to which we were especially indebted, e.g., The League of Nations, and the Austrian Bundesamt für Statistik.

Numerous gaps in our files of publications of learned societies received through the Connecticut Academy have been filled in answer to 125 letters of request.

An unusual number of items have reached the Library in exchange from Czechoslovakia.

THE CLASSIFICATION AND CATALOGUING OF THE COLLECTIONS

WHILE most of the time of the cataloguers had to be spent in caring for current accessions, it has been possible to catch up with some of the arrears. The cataloguing of the Hebrew books in Judaica is practically completed, leaving only the Yiddish to be cared for; the Scandinavian collection has been classified and catalogued, as well as the monographs in Agriculture; a scheme of classification for the Yale Memorabilia has been prepared, and a first rough sorting made.

The number of volumes catalogued was 27,517 (23,437 main entries, 88,135 cards). The number of pamphlets catalogued and classified was 14,466 (represented by 7,357 main entries and 14,228 cards). The number of serial volumes catalogued and transferred was 35,698 (represented by 3,535 main entries and 27,768 cards). The total number of new cards added to the catalogue was 133,837. In addition, 379 entries were sent to the International Index to Periodicals. Six of the Departmental Libraries sent 1,419 cards for the general catalogue.

THE LIBRARY OF THE AMERICAN ORIENTAL SOCIETY

DURING the year the American Oriental Society agreed to leave its library on permanent deposit at Yale, where it has been since 1855. In recognition of the importance of the Society's action, special provision is being made for the housing of the Society's library in the Sterling Memorial Library, and a catalogue of the Society's books is being prepared for publication. It is planned to print the catalogue as part of the Journal of the Society.

THE USE MADE OF THE LIBRARY

IN spite of the congestion and present unattractiveness of the public rooms, and the delay resulting from the storage of so many thousands of volumes in adjoining buildings, the use of the Library is increasing daily. Last year's figures were unprecedented, but the growth continues.

The number of books on reserve for general class use last year was 5,433, and the number of issues 60,285. This year the figures are 6,458 and 65,220, respectively.

Last year 34,670 volumes were taken from the General Library for home reading by 2,643 readers. This year 39,475 volumes were taken by 2,969 readers. The Linonian and Brothers borrowers last year numbered 2,104, taking 23,122 books; this year 2,356 borrowers took 25,348 books. It is often difficult to find a seat in the main reading room, and at examination periods the seating accommodation is quite insufficient.

EXHIBITIONS

DURING the year nine exhibitions were held in the Chittenden Reading Room.

Three were in connection with the Sophomore courses in English, and with the advice of Professor Reed first and rare editions of books from Chaucer to Byron were shown between October and May.

On February 8 the one hundredth birthday of Bayard Taylor was commemorated by an exhibition of an almost complete series of first editions of the poet's works, with manuscripts and other memorabilia illustrative of his interest in Goethe.

In honor of the meeting of the American Oriental Society in New Haven in April many rare oriental books and manuscripts were shown. The Yale Library contributed a Syriac New Testament of 917-918 A.D., a Chinese manuscript of the eighth century, a specimen of wood block printing made in Japan about 1300, and some of the more beautiful of the Landberg Arabic manuscripts. The Misses Whitney lent the copy of the Atharva Veda Sanhita made by Professor William Dwight Whitney in 1852. Professor F. Wells Williams lent the journal of his father, Dr. Samuel Wells Williams. Mr. V. T. Hammer of Branford lent articles from his Egyptian collection, and Professor Torrey lent a number of rare books and manuscripts.

On Alumni Day an exhibition was held illustrating the history of undergraduate life at Yale; and at Commencement class albums were shown, as well as recent gifts to the Library of an unusual character.

During the week preceding Easter a committee of undergraduates prepared an exhibit of rare books owned by the undergraduates. About four hundred books were offered to the committee, but there was space for only about two hundred and sixty, lent by thirty-five collectors. The exhibits showed a wide range of interest, and many of them were rare and important.

ADMINISTRATION

THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Professors Day and Tilden and Mr. Barr were reappointed as members of the Library Committee for three-year terms, and Professor Woodruff was appointed for one year, during the absence of Professor Underhill.

THE STAFF

There were added to the staff Miss Dorothy Bridgwater, B.S. Simmons College 1922, who came from the library of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri; Miss Anna Mildred Cass, B.S. Simmons 1924; Miss Katherine Hasson, B.A. Smith College 1922, who came from the Smith College Library; Miss Mary Patterson, B.A. Smith College 1922, transferred from the Day Missions Library; Miss Alice Norton Shipman, B.A. Mount Holyoke 1924; and Miss Emily M. Richmond.

STERLING MEMORIAL LIBRARY

SEVERAL plans for the new Library were prepared by Mr. Rogers during the year, and were studied with great care by the Library Committee and by the Library staff. In February a small photostatic reproduction of the floor plans was sent to every full Professor, and every member of the faculty was invited to a meeting at which the Librarian explained the plans and invited criticisms and suggestions. A similar meeting, to which the whole Library staff was invited, gave an opportunity for discussion from another point of view. Some of the leading librarians of the country were also invited to Yale to discuss the plans with the architect and the University officers. All suggestions received were carefully studied by the Library Committee and the architect, and new plans were drawn incorporating all the suggestions that were accepted. Before the year closed plan "M" was accepted by the Corporation and by the Sterling Trustees, and Mr. Rogers was ready to begin the detailed drawings. It is hoped that before the end of the next college year the erection of the new building will have been begun.

ALUMNI ADVISORY BOARD'S COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY

THE Alumni Advisory Board, at its meeting on June 15, appointed a Committee on the Library. The duty of this Committee is, in the words of its Chairman, "to inquire into the problems of the Library, to develop a program for meeting these problems, and to submit such a program, with appropriate recommendations, to the Advisory Council." The Committee consists of Mr. Frank Altschul, B.A. 1908, Chairman; Alfred L. Aiken, B.A. 1891; Starling W. Childs, B.A. 1891; William S. Mason, Ph.B. 1888; Robert Hartshorne, B.A. 1890; Anson C. Goodyear, B.A. 1899; Wilmarth S. Lewis, B.A. 1918; Samuel R. Betts, B.A. 1875; Leonard C. Hanna, Jr., ex-1913; Samuel W. Lambert, B.A. 1880; Russell C. Leffingwell, B.A. 1899. The Committee is to hold its first meeting in New York in October.

 Does not include 19 volumes deposited by Professor Mendel.

CONCLUSION

I TAKE the opportunity to thank the Corporation for the increased appropriations to the Library, which are now the largest in our history; to thank the members of the Library Committee for their attendance at the many meetings to discuss the plans of the new Library building; and to thank the staff for many evidences of good will and for the corporate pride which maintains and improves the character of our service to Yale.

The lists of donors to the General Library and to the Library of the School of Law will be found on pages 15-22.

ANDREW KEOGH

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN OF THE SCHOOL OF LAW

I HAVE the honor to present herewith my annual report as Librarian of the School of Law and Curator of the Wheeler Collection for the year 1924-25.

CATALOGUING AND CLASSIFICATION

IN addition to the cataloguing of the current material, recataloguing in the sections of Treatises, Biography, and History has been checked with our recently made shelf list and completed. Recataloguing in other sections has proceeded during such time as could be taken from the current demands.

ACCESSIONS

THE effort to secure for the Library the most representative material in foreign countries has been pursued during the year, so that we now probably have the essentials of a working library of Comparative Law. We have continued our efforts to fill in the gaps in our foreign law periodicals.

The Alumni Association of the Law School has aided in providing the Law Library with a second set of state reports. At present we have obtained the complete sets of reports for fifteen states and a full set of the Reporter System. We have incomplete sets of several states and of the United States official reports.

MISCELLANEOUS

THE former auditorium of the Law School has been equipped as a reading room and has been of great assistance in relieving the crowded conditions in the main reading rooms of the Library.

The funds available for purchase of books, binding, periodicals, and supplies for the Law Library have been increased to $14,000 for the coming year.

The Library continues to face a situation becoming every day more serious because of lack of space.

STATISTICS

DURING the year there have been added to the Library 6,364 volumes of which 4,314 have been gifts. The growth of the Library through the last ten years is indicated by the following table:

	Wheeler Collection	Entire Law Library
1915-16	4,797	41,507
1916-17	4,922	42,551
1917-18	5,516	45,845
1918-19	5,898	50,357
1919-20	6,168	60,522
1920-21	6,676	65,059
1921-22	7,371	67,902
1922-23	8,013	72,202
1923-24	8,788	76,901
1924-25	8,996	83,300

The new accessions, together with their respective expenditures, may be divided as follows: from the General, English, and 1896 funds 1508 volumes at a cost of $7,086.45; from the Wheeler Fund, 208 volumes at a cost of $892.94; subscriptions to periodicals, $1,161.03; binding, $1,321.70; office equipment, supplies, etc., $430.92; making a total expenditure for the year of $10,893.04, including the Wheeler Fund of $892.90.
